UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union and the United States were reported today to have agreed to make separate statements in the Security Council to wind up the U.N. consideration of the Cuban crisis.

Informed sources said the Russians had given up their idea that there should be a joint Soviet-U.S. declaration and were going along with the American idea that there should be parallel statements.

The sources said negotiators for the two countries are now talking about what each should say in the statements.

The informants said the United States is still demanding verification that Soviet offensive weapons have been removed from Cuba and guarantees that they will not be brought back, and the Soviet Union is demanding a U.S. pledge that Cuba will not be invaded.

President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed on such safeguards in letters Oct. 27 and 28. They also agreed that the Soviet Union would pull out the offensive weapons it had sent to Cuba and the United States would lift the blockade it had imposed to keep more from coming in.

Since then, U.S. reconnaissance has observed 42 medium-range missiles and 42 bombers leaving Cuba aboard Soviet freighters, and Kennedy has lifted the quarantine.

No Violent Deaths Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No violent deaths were reported in Arkansas Sunday leaving the state's toll for the week ended midnight Sunday at 20.

Last Monday was the worst day for violent deaths in the state during the week. Ten persons lost their lives that day.

A girl choked to death when she swallowed a balloon that day, a man was killed when he fell into a cotton picking machine, one man was killed in a car-train collision, one was killed in a traffic mishap, one was accidentally shot, two burned to death and three others were shot to death.

The last reported death was Friday, when a man died in a Little Rock hospital of injuries sustained several weeks earlier when he allegedly was beaten and thrown from a train.

During the week fires claimed three persons were electrocuted one was stabbed to death and on died when a jack collapsed and a car fell on him.

Young Girl Saved by a Neighbor

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Frank Hammond, 28, carried a 16-year-old Hot Springs girl 1½ miles down West Mountain Sunday and saved her from a frigid, lonely night and possible harm.

The group reached the bottom of the mountain and then rechecked the area for Brenda they didn't find her.

A search party was organized, numbering about 200 persons, including Civil Defense personnel and Auxiliary Policemen.

Hammond, who is in the construction business at Hot Springs, was familiar with the mountain area and set out on his own to find the girl. He lives in the same area as Brenda and her mother, Lois Smith.

Several hours later Hammond found Brenda, tired and sleepy. He picked her up and began carrying her down the mountain—a junket that required about 45 minutes.

They emerged on Music Mountain Road, and Hammond flagged down a passing motorist and got a ride for Brenda and himself into South Hot Springs, where they both live.

Brenda wore a dress and a light jacket, Hammond said. He said the temperature was about 38 degrees on the mountain at 7 p.m., when he found her. Five hours had passed since the picnic ended. Doctors said the girl probably would be all right.

She said she knew she was lost and was very sleepy.

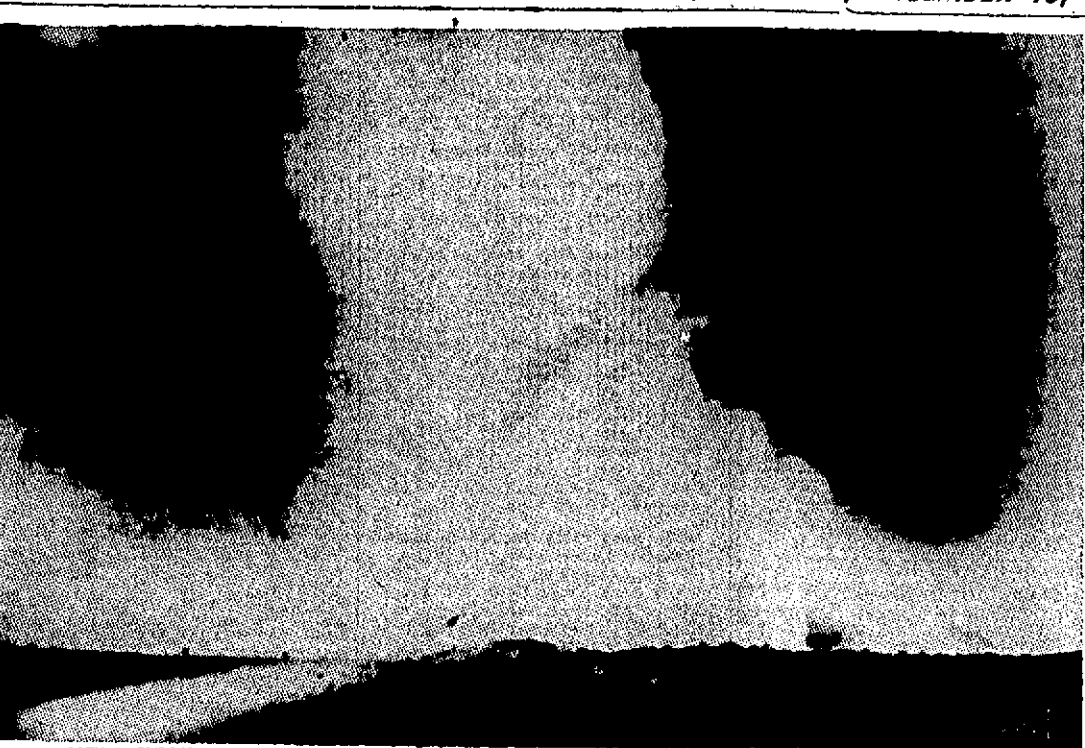

The name of the driver of the car was not known.

Tanganyika Rule to Be Unchanged

(AP)—Dr. Julius Nyerere was sworn in as Tanganyika's first republican president Sunday and announced a government virtually unchanged from the previous one.

Nyerere, who also was Tanganyika's first premier, announced that the only change is establishment of a new Ministry for National Culture and Youth. As in the old Cabinet one European and one Asian are ministers.

Nyerere, 39, a former school teacher, took his oath of allegiance as president at a colorful ceremony here.

NEW ERUPTION — A heavy column of steam continues to pour from the vent of Aloi Crater on Kilauea volcano, Hilo, Hawaii, after the volcano erupted for several hours earlier, spurting molten lava 200-feet into the air.

GOPs Figure They Made Gain in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Republican Party claimed significant gains Saturday in the Nov. 6 general election.

William L. Spicer of Fort Smith, chairman of the state GOP committee, said the 82,000 votes polled by Willis Ricketts, the party's gubernatorial candidate, was one of the largest "off-year" Republican votes ever gathered in the state.

Spicer issued a statement giving his party credit more for the campaign it ran than the votes it polled.

He said the party had over 150 candidates for local, county, district and state offices.

"This is an all-time high," he said.

The winning of some county posts was gratifying, since the party is trying to build from the ground up, Spicer said.

While the party did not win a state or district office, he said, "we did force the Democratic party into a defensive position, from which they were obliged to campaign for the support of the electorate. This in itself is totally unprecedented and signals the coming of age of the Arkansas GOP as a political force, if not as yet a winning party."

Spicer said Ricketts tried to overcome the handicap of "lack of exposure to the public eye" by proposing long-over due reforms, but that GOP machinery was unable to turn his reforms into votes.

"Our district candidates, both excellent men and hard workers, fell victim to the same malady," he added, "campaign inexperience and lack of money to put across their programs."

In the 4th Congressional District race for representative, incumbent Oren Harris polled 74,972 votes to 21,818 for Warren Lieb-long. Rep. James Trimble defeated Cy Carney Jr. 58,786 to 2,987 in the 3rd district.

Strengthening the party at the precinct level is the only way to overcome this, Spicer said.

There was some unjust criticism of the Republican leadership during the campaign, Spicer said, and "every candidate had his share of detractors who did not like the way this or that candidate campaigned."

Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock campaigned on the Republican ticket for senator but termed himself a conservative first and a GOP member second.

The eventual goal of the Republican party, Spicer said, is to have a candidate for every post in every election.

"The Arkansas Republican State Committee will lend assistance and advice to any Republican candidate who asks for it," he said, "and we will support them to the utmost limit of our resources."

Cancer Patients Number 884

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Cancer Commission reported Saturday that Arkansas' seven tumor clinics diagnosed 884 cases of malignant cancer during the year ended June 30.

The report said patients made 4,923 visits to 341 clinic sessions. The clinics are in general hospitals in Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Texarkana, Jonesboro, Harrison and El Dorado.

More than a thousand persons received treatment through radiation, surgery or chemotherapy, the report said.

Arkansas deaths from cancer, as reported in 1961 to the Bureau of Vital statistics, totaled 2,541, an increase of 5.4 per cent over the previous year.

Youths to Be Charged in Slaying

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pros. Atty. John T. Jernigan said Saturday charges of second degree murder would be filed today against two teenagers in connection with the death of Herbert Floyd Stout, 50, of Bristol, W.Va.

Stout died Saturday of injuries received when he was thrown from a freight train Nov. 11.

Charges of assault with intent to kill had been filed previously against Ireland J. Vincent, 16, (address unknown and Edwin L. Drury, 18, of Charleston, W.Va.). Police said the two were arrested on the train from which Stout was thrown shortly after Stout was found alongside the railroad tracks.

Farm Bureau Opens Drive in Dixie

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation opens its 1962 convention in the heart of Dixie on Monday to renew battle plans against new farm controls sought by a national administration the South helped put in office.

Leaders of the nation's largest farm organization claimed Sunday that farmers are more strongly opposed to government intervention in agriculture than ever before. The Farm Bureau was a factor in congressional rejection this year of proposals to extend farm controls.

Certainly there were few among early arriving delegates from 49 states to take issue with this appraisal. Preliminary work on drafting convention resolutions on farm and other issues progressed more smoothly, officials said, than in any recent bureau convention.

Yet, oddly enough, the meeting scheduled to end Dec. 13 will be held in the middle of a farming region which strongly supports federal controls on cotton, tobacco and peanuts.

But as President Harry L. Brown of the Georgia Farm Bureau put it, farmers in the Southeast stand firmly behind the national organization in its past opposition to extension of controls to farm products not now subject to them. Brown said that for the time being federal restrictions were necessary for cotton tobacco and peanuts.

Hope Woman to Bureau Meet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A delegation of nearly 100 persons will represent Arkansas agriculture this week at the American Farm Bureau Federation's annual convention in Atlanta, Ga.

The national meeting begins Monday and will continue through Thursday.

Official voting delegates from the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation will be Morris L. Bowman of Newport, H. L. Gilbreath of Summers, E. E. Swindle of Moscow and Paul W. Bowlin of Mulberry.

Officially representing Arkansas at a joint meeting of American Farm Bureau Women will be Mrs. J. H. Carroll Jr. of Brinkley, Mrs. John Doyle of Marianna, Mrs. Lester Kent of Hope and Mrs. Jack Jones of Potsville.

Three Counties to Name Senator

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Only one name will be on the ballot Tuesday when voters in Crittenden, Cross and St. Francis counties go to the polls to select a state senator.

W. K. Bill Ingram, a West Memphis contractor and former Crittenden County judge, is the only candidate who qualified as a candidate for the 25th senatorial district post vacated by the death of Sen. Charles F. Rip Smith of West Memphis.

Ingram resigned as a member of the Crittenden County Board of Election Commissioners recently to make the race. He had been the appointive member of the three-man board for the past two years. His successor will be named by the state Board of Election Commissioners.

AMS Hopes to Immunize 80% of Population

By BILL SIMMONS

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Medical Society, hoping to immunize 80 per cent of the state's population, has decided that each county should conduct its own immunization program. Dr. Roger Bost of Fort Smith said Saturday.

Bost is chairman of the society's polio committee, which had planned a statewide campaign for this fall but postponed it Sept. 14.

The postponement followed reports from Canada that four persons given tri-valent doses of Sabin oral polio vaccine came down with polio.

All three types of Sabin vaccine were to have been used in the statewide program, but the society has decided since to use only types I and II.

The third type has not been cleared by the United States Public Health Service for consumption, and the society said it would not be employed until the PHS recommended it.

Bost pointed to successful campaigns with Sabin vaccine in Miller and Washington counties, and said the society had come to believe that the county or area level was the best possible level for reaching most of the people in the state.

The recent program in Washington County immunized approximately 80 per cent of the county's 55,000 residents after a polio outbreak claimed one life and hospitalized nine other persons.

Bost said persons who have had all three Salk shots and the regular boosters, still need the Sabin vaccine.

The Salk vaccine is only 80 per cent effective, while the Sabin vaccine is practically 100 per cent effective, he said.

The society said if 80 per cent of the persons in the state take the Sabin vaccine, the other 20 per cent could become immune without taking it. This is because the Sabin vaccine is a live virus, Bost said, whereas the Salk vaccine uses a killed virus.

Bost said any member of a household could take the Sabin vaccine, and the other members of the family would become almost immediately immune, even though they did not take the vaccine themselves.

Some 48 million doses of Types I and II Sabin vaccine have been administered, Bost said, "without a single case of polio resulting."

Tito Visiting in Stalingrad

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito arrived Sunday in Volgograd, formerly Stalingrad, Tass reported. The vacationing Yugoslav leader, his wife and an entourage of top government and Communist party officials received a full-dress reception from local authorities, the Soviet news agency said.

Tito left Moscow Saturday night aboard a special train after five days of meetings with Premier Khrushchev. He is expected to return to Moscow on Thursday for more talks.

Although relations between Tito's Communist party and the Soviet party are officially broken, the fact that Yuri Andropov, a Central Committee secretary in charge of relations with Communist parties in socialist countries, accompanied the Yugoslavs on their tour aroused speculation that there are possibilities of mending the ideological rift.

Youths Jailed for Attempt at Robbery

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) — The Mississippi County Sheriff's office said Sunday that two teenage Negro boys were arrested Saturday in connection with an attempted robbery Friday night.

A liquor store operator was critically wounded in the attempt, which netted no money.

Deputy Cliff Cannon identified the two as Sammy Rice, 19, and Joe Lee Brown, 16, both of Osceola.

Cannon said Rice was arrested at his mother's home in Memphis. He said he and Sheriff William Berryman were returning the boy to Osceola when they spotted a stolen car at Frenchman's Bayou on U.S. Highway 61. Cannon said Brown was driving the car, which was stolen at West Memphis.

Cannon said the boys signed statements admitting their parts in the attempted robbery and shooting. He said Rice used a stolen .22-caliber rifle to shoot Murrell four times in the legs and abdomen. He said Brown had obtained the rifle.

Murrell was in critical condition in a Memphis hospital.

Rice and Brown were being held in the Mississippi County Jail at Osceola pending a hearing in municipal court.

Denies Seeking Committee Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., denied reports Sunday that he is seeking a position on the Foreign Relations Committee.

A freshman senator seldom is invited to sit on the important Foreign Relations Committee, but there have been reports that Kennedy, brother of the President, expected to be named a member.

"This is completely untrue," he said in a television interview. "I've great deal of admiration and respect for the role that the committee has played and is playing in the United States Senate — the senior members of the Senate who are on the committee. I honestly feel that there are so many people in the United States Senate whose experience, knowledge and understanding of the problems, dealing with foreign affairs, that they should serve on the committee. I feel very strongly about this."

Chinese Can't Be Trusted, Indians Told

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today Red China's cease-fire and withdrawal maneuver may be only a trick and warned his front-line troops that fighting might flare up again in the Himalayas.

The Indian leader delivered his warning in a radio address after rejecting Peking's terms for settlement of the border conflict.

Nehru offered to refer the frontier dispute to the International Court of Justice if China withdraws from Indian territory. He made the offer in an appearance in Parliament. Later he made his radio address to Indian soldiers, telling them to be prepared for a long struggle.

Nehru told Parliament India continues to demand that the Chinese withdraw to the positions held Sept. 8. China has called this "utterly unacceptable."

Nehru warned "this war may even last five years or more but I feel confident we shall win."

He called on the Indian people for "determination to refuse to bow down to the imperialist tactics of China whatever happens."

Nehru also had words for the six nonaligned nations meeting in Ceylon in a search of a solution to the India-China conflict.

"The aggression must be undone and the status quo restored," Nehru said. "At present there is no meeting ground between us."

Nehru replied in Parliament to Peking's demand for a "clear and definite" answer to its package proposals for a cease-fire; mutual withdrawal of forces; 12.5 miles behind what Peking calls the actual control line of Nov. 7, 1959, and meetings of Chinese and Indian officials to form a demilitarized zone, establish checkpoints and return captured personnel.

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India accused Communist China on Sunday of making an unveiled threat that India must accept Peking-dictated terms or face a renewal of their undeclared war.

A spokesman for the Indian Foreign Ministry assailed a Peking statement issued Saturday as an ultimatum to India and to six nonaligned nations which will meet in Colombo, Ceylon, on Monday in an effort to bring about solution of the India-Red China border dispute.

There was no official response from Prime Minister Nehru's government to a follow-up Chinese note Sunday which demanded that India give a "clear and definite" answer to Chinese proposals for peace along their battle-torn Himalayan border.

The Peking note gave no deadline, suggested Red China would not wait long for India to make a clear-cut decision on whether to accept or reject the Chinese package plan for peaceful negotiations.

India has made plain its objections to Peking's proposals for mutual troop withdrawals but the

THE STORY: Bunhy Pike shows Rafe that a man with a rifle is watching outside the house, waiting for Rafe to leave.

Bunhy touched Rafe's arm and they returned to the bedroom where she stopped beside her father. Following her eyes Rafe went again to look out. Another man was waiting in the rocks beyond the shed from which, the first time he'd quit this place, he'd got bathed.

"Well?" he said, staring hard at Pike. "What's about it?"

"If this were Chilton's doing," Bunhy's father said, "they'd not need to be under cover." But Rafe wasn't ready to holler calf rope yet. "Maybe," he said, "his tinbadge had other fish to fry."

"Boy," Pike said, "I've heard enough of that nonsense. The facts speak for themselves. That pair you've just looked at are a couple of Spangler hardcases, and they're out there to make sure you stay put."

Not even Rafe's hardshell prejudice could stand up against that. But he wasn't about to step down without a struggle. "Then why don't this wonderful Dry Bottom badge toler make 'em clear out or above 'em in the clinic?"

Bunhy looking flustered, clouded up to say respectfully: "Nobody with a lick of sense would go out of his way to tangle with Spangler."

"Well, isn't that just fine!" Rafe scowled. "What's a feller have to do to get protection around here?"

"Mostly, around here," Pike said, staring back at him, "a crock is expected to stand on its own bottom."

That following week was the longest Rafe Bender had ever put in at anything. Whenever he looked Spangler's gunnies were out there. Maybe not the same pair all this miserable while, but there was always somebody watching and waiting.

He became hard to live with as Bunhy, exasperated, one day told him frankly. But he was not too filled with his persecutions to forget the exercises Pike had prescribed. Hour after hour he worked his fingers, kneading them, stretching them, flexing them, and bending them while the hate courses through him like a heavy tide. He could feel himself now, dress and shave himself too, do pretty near anything but get out of here. One thing he had made up his mind to: hereafter he was going to look out for himself. There was no good trying to be a turn-your-check Christian in a land overrun by throat-sitting Philistines. From here on out he would be playing for Rafe Bender.

He could put together a smoke with his hands but the left, as Pike feared, beamed up considerable short of maximum efficiency. Oh, it would pick up things and, after a fashion, manage to keep hold of them, but those first and third fingers didn't close the way they ought to. They tracked, that was about all you could say for them. He'd had to learn all over again to work at old skills that right hand had forgotten. Lifting and squeezing he kept both hands busy while he built his strength and nursed his black fury.

Saturday the sheriff came, a washed-out, handlebarred, frame-shrunk old has-been whose rheumy eyes appeared frequently to seek but never quite meet the pair staring back at him. Dropping his hat on the floor he took the proffered chair, beamed it back against the wall and said, "You've had a time, I guess."

Rafe considered that self-evident. Pike wasn't home and Bunhy, after introducing the badge-toler as Ed Sparks, had gone back to the kitchen, leaving them alone.

"Melbe," Sparks said now, "You better tell me about it."

"What's there to tell? Somebody bent the livin' daylight out of me, packed me off and left me out in them dunes to get blowed over with sand and buried."

"I understood, when the corner found you, you was ravin' like a lony, plumb out of your head."

"What's that at to do with the price of apples?"

"How would you know then, how you got there?"

"If I'd set out by shank's mare I would know it."

The sheriff stared at Rafe's run-over boot sand shifted his chaw to the other side of his face. "You say somebody beat you—care to name him?"

"I was talkin'," Rafe growled,

Chinese Can't

Indian government has not yet replied formally whether it accepts or rejects the Chinese plan.

It is felt in New Delhi that formal rejection would spark renewal of the fighting. But it is also believed that Nehru's government in the light or aroused public and private assertions by Indian officials bolster this impression.

The Peking note was handed to the Indian Embassy in New Delhi and broadcast by Peking radio. In it, Peking asked "does the Indian government agree or does it not agree" to Red China's three main proposals:

1. a cease-fire; 2. mutual withdrawal of forces 12.5 miles behind what Peking calls the actual control line of Nov. 7, 1959; and 3. meetings of Chinese and Indian officials for forming a demilitarized zone, establishing checkpoints and returning captured personnel.

The impression here is that Nehru might accept the cease-fire if it were not attached to the troop withdrawals. India has been tacitly observing the cease-fire since the Red Chinese effected it Nov. 21.

The Chinese demanded to know in Sunday's note whether an Indian official in Colombo last Tuesday was stating government policy in saying Indian troops would make back to the McMahon Line. India considers the line its frontier. Red China rejects it, and insists Indian troops stay 12.5 miles away from it.

The Indian government has said only that the official, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, Nehru's deputy foreign minister, was answering "hypothetical questions." But a high official in the Foreign Ministry said a return to the border is the policy, even if India is hesitating to say it.

The Peking statement Saturday called India "aggressive, arrogant and expansionist" and warned India not to contemplate a renewal of the fighting even with the help of U.S. and British military aid.

Expressing the Indian reaction, a spokesman said: "Instead of arguments or clarification, an unveiled threat is delivered to the effect that peaceful negotiations can only reopen on the basis of the terms dictated by China."

"This statement on the eve of the forthcoming conference of friendly Afro-Asian countries which starts tomorrow is particularly regrettable because it appears to be a sort of ultimatum to participants in the conference at Colombo."

The United Arab Republic, Ghana, Indonesia, Cambodia, Burma and Ceylon are meeting in an effort to find a solution to the undeclared war between India and China.

India has impressed on these nations that before it will enter into negotiations with Red China, the Chinese must pull back to positions they held before they launched their fall campaign and drove to the edge of India's populous plains of Assam.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

"Yes, Beverly--
there is a Santa Claus"

...and Christmas after Christmas he gladdens the hearts of homemakers with the gift of Flameless Electric Dryers!

This Christmas is a wonderful time to prove to your Beverly... or Margaret... or Ann... that there's not only a Santa Claus, but YOU are it! By choosing a modern Flameless Electric Clothes Dryer you prove beyond all doubt that you love her, because you will be giving her a present to save her precious time—to save her strength—to protect her health. Think of it—all through 1963, her clothes drying problems will be settled! Rainy days won't disturb her, cold weather won't bother her. And even if she has to wait until night to do the laundry, her dryer will be ready to do its job... anytime,

But love is not all you give with an Electric Clothes Dryer. You give yourself and your bank account a break because Flameless Dryers cost somewhat less than others—they're simpler, for one thing—fewer parts mean less maintenance—so there's another saving on service calls. But best of all, it's the better job that clean, flameless heat does that makes Flameless Dryers first choice. No fumes, either... it's just like bringing the sunshine in your house! This year, prove to her that there really IS a wonderful Santa... with one of the very best gifts she ever had, a Flameless Electric Dryer!

P. S. to Santas: they're easy to find, easy to buy, at your electric appliance store!

"It's a heck of a way to win," said Dickinson with a weak smile as he pocketed $2,800 prize money.

The slight 35 year old Tequesta, Fla., pro posted a regulation 35-36 in winning his first major tournament since the Insurance City Open in Hartford, Conn., five years ago.

What's The Other Side

WHAT'S THE OTHER SIDE

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am clerk of the People's Court in Baltimore. People often stop by my office seeking information as to where they should go with their problems.

Recently a woman was involved in a situation strikingly similar to one printed not long ago in your column. The wife resented the fact that her husband refused to let her out at night, even to a woman's civic club meetings. You advised her to assert herself, attend the meetings and weather his anger in the hope that he would eventually see the folly of his arbitrary ways.

The woman who laid her case before me did just that and—lost her husband. Now I do not for a minute believe that this woman is the person who wrote you but the advice which you gave your correspondent could very well produce the same results, not for any lack of sincerity on your part but simply because you have only one side of the story.

Fortunately, I talked to the husband of the woman. He does object to his wife going out at night alone. The neighborhood through which she must travel has suffered from handbag snatchings, assaults and women molesters. There are a few baby sitters and, if obtainable, could not afford even their small fee.

I don't know what the final outcome of this tragedy will be for his wife is determined to go and come as she pleases and he is equally determined that she live up to her responsibilities.

How unjust it would be if judges could render decisions based on one side of the picture, as you and your contemporaries do!—C. Wernig, People's Court, Baltimore, Md.

Dear Mr. Wernig: One seeking counsel gives only her or his version of life problem. But to a reporter like myself who has spent the major part of her mature life observing, analyzing and interviewing literally thousands of human beings, it is easy enough to read between the lines. Careless use of a word, overemphasis of a fancied wrong, self-pity or a subconscious revealing of the truth, gives the other side of the coin.

It goes without saying that I do my best to visualize the plight of both man and woman. In a sense, I am the reader's attorney, doing my best to acquaint myself with all the aspects before giving advice. You will agree that reputation of attorneys are motivated by fair play. In those instances where I fail to get the complete picture, I either say so or request the one seeking help to send a fuller account of the problem or ask the other person to supply the facts.

Judging from the responses of readers who voluntarily let me know the outcome, I sincerely believe my advice to be of value. As for the wife whose husband won't let her off home base, I believe a little probing would reveal a deep-seated cause for this surface jealousy. I am mailing you two of my leaflets on "Marital Harmony" which may help them.

Dear Helen: I am at my wits' end with a very difficult problem. These past four years I have been living with another girl. The relationship, though normal on my part, is evidently not so with her. Every time I date a boy she flies into a jealous rage. Once she locked me out and tossed all my belongings into the yard. Her domineering, possessive attitude makes me fear for my life.

While on vacation I met a boy who asked me to marry him. It was love at first sight for both of us. He has never met my roommate, wonders why I don't invite him to my home and why he must send his letters to my place of employment. I am running out of answers. Please print this letter and your reply as soon as possible.—Desperate

Dear Desperate: Break with your roommate as soon as possible. If practical, stay with a relative or family friend until you can establish roots of your own, irrespective of this "Well of Loneliness" character. You know your boy friend, I don't; but if I were in your place I would tell him the truth. The poor girl might be helped by a psychiatrist or a physician.

Dear Helen: I've been married 20 years, have two wonderful children and am supremely happy save for one thing: my husband has an eye for a shapely leg. Every time we go out with friends he lags behind if there is a chance of gawking at a girl's ankle. When we go to a restaurant his eyes stray to the waitresses' legs, be they large, medium or downright skinny. I'm not bad looking; small, shapely and trimly built but he never sees me. I talk; he doesn't listen—say there is a roaring in his head. But let another woman whisper and he's as alert as a bird dog. What's wrong?—Wondering

Dear Wondering: Face the facts of life. Suppose your husband's eyes do wander. What man's wouldn't at sight of a pretty girl's legs? If yours doesn't see you when he looks at you, get busy. Stop being a worthy, sensible, middle-aged wife. Change your hairdo. Study your figure. Buy new clothes to emphasize its best points. Wear lureful, high-heeled, impractical but beautiful slippers. Play the helpless female. Lean weakly on the strong male in your life—your husband. He'll see you all right.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "The Way to a Boy's Heart." Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. A Bell Syndicate Feature Dorothy Dix is a registered trademark.

Hoffa Elected by Teamsters

DETROIT (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the International Teamsters Union, won reelection Saturday as head of his home Local No. 299 in Detroit. The post pays $22,000 a year. The union announced an overwhelming margin for Hoffa. He polled 3,615 votes against 280 for Ira D. Cooke Jr., a truck driver in suburban Lincoln Park, and 76 for Charles O'Brien, a local business agent.

Approximately 4,000 of the 16,000 members of the local cast ballots before the deadline at noon in voting that started Thursday. Although Hoffa had little to worry about on the outcome of the election, he put on a big red hat and a sheepskin-lined jacket to do some last-minute campaigning among the voters. He shook hands and kidded with hundreds of rank-and-file lined up to vote at the local's headquarters.

The Hoffa-Cooke-O'Brien contest was the only race in the election. Incumbents were unopposed for vice president, secretary-treasurer, recording secretary and three trustee posts.

Hoffa's salary as international president is $75,000. Mills to Speak LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., will be principal speaker Thursday at the state Welfare Department's annual meeting in Little Rock. The meeting is expected to attract some 600 officials and employees of the department at the state and county levels. It ends Friday.

Fish to Be Key Dish in Arkansas
By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer
How do you like your fish? Fried? Broiled? Baked? No matter what your preference now, you'll probably be trying some new fish preparations in the near future.
Charlene Hatchett of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries at Ann Arbor, Mich., vouches for this. She's in the business of creating new products for the dining table, and she's a specialist in creating these products from fish.
It's called recipe development. Miss Hatchett and Miss Ann Davies, also of the Michigan BCF, are home economists, working toward the betterment of the fishing industry through more varied and delectable products.
Together they cover an 18-state area which includes Arkansas demonstrating to home demonstration agents new types of fish preparations. Miss Hatchett has shown new methods in Arkansas as home demonstration agents, and over television.
The University of Arkansas is expected to make a survey at Memphis to see how people react to these new products. Some 500 Memphis families will be given a sample of a new product to fix for a meal.

Later, the University plans to register the reactions of the families, including their answers to such questions as: Would you buy this product for your family if it were on the market?
From this survey, the university hopes to learn whether the product is likely to be a success on the grocery markets of the nation.
Among the fish used in recipe development, Miss Hatchett said the buffalo probably offers a good example of what the researchers can do.
The buffalo is a very bony fish, she said, but the home economists have processed it, ground it up, and found it suitable for canning. They also have developed a fish cold cut—which they believe is suitable for a sandwich loaf—and a fish portion, which is larger than the fish sticks purchasable nowadays.
The big aim of the technology and the market survey is to get big industry to sit up and take notice, Miss Hatchett said.
"We need to get industry to utilize some of these products," she said. "That could start a chain reaction that could put the fish farming industry on its feet." She estimated that fish farming really came into existence only 10 years ago when farmers found fish in their rice ponds. She said they also discovered that the presence of fish in unused rice fields fertilized the earth and created better rice crops.

"They learned, to," she said, "that fish could be harvested and grown as a marketable crop."
The obstacles presently in the path of success for fish farmers are multitudinous, Miss Hatchett said. They include, in some areas, a lack of surface water, in others an inferior climate, the fact that almost 50 per cent of the fish consumed in the United States is imported, and, until recently, an apparent lack of concern for the fish farmer.
The last item, she said, recently was assuaged to some extent when Congress passed a law making fish farmers eligible for loans under the Farmers Home Administration.
As for surface water, she said Arkansas is in a good position. "Arkansas is, in fact, unique in having so much surface water," she said. "There practically is no fish farming in Michigan because there is so much surface water, like it is in Arkansas."
With a little bit of luck and a good deal of work, she said the fish farming industry could become one of the major industries in the nation—and Arkansas could lead the way.

Welters Have It All to Themselves
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The junior welterweights (140 pounds) have the title fight business all to themselves this week with a Saturday bout in Milan, Italy, pitting champion Eddie Perkins of Chicago against former champ Duilio Loi of Italy.
Loi won the crown from Carlo Ortiz, now the lightweight champ, and turned back a challenge from Perkins in 1961. However, Perkins dethroned the 33-year-old Italian last Sept. 14 and Loi said he was giving up the class for keeps. However, he changed his mind and signed for the rematch.
The Italians have another big bout on Friday when Giulio Rinaldi, the Italian light heavy, who lost to Archie Moore in his challenge for the world championship, opposed Bobo Olson, the San Francisco man who once held the world middleweight title.
Zora Folley, a Chandler, Ariz., heavyweight who is rated No. 6 among Sony Liston's challengers, takes on Doug Jones, a New Yorker ranked No. 1 among the light heavies, Saturday at Madison Square Garden.

Packers Rally to Overhaul the 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ignited by Tom Moore's 32-yard touchdown run, the Green Bay Packers rallied to overhaul the surprising San Francisco 49ers Sunday 31-21 and stay atop the National Football League's Western Conference.

Trailing 21-0 at the half, the Packers couldn't go ahead until the fourth quarter was nearly 2 minutes old when Jim Taylor smashed over from the 2 and Jerry Kramer batted the conversion making the count 21-21.

Victory put the Packers record at 12-1 with only next week's game at Los Angeles standing between them and the Western title that would match them with the New York Giants in the play-off for the NFL crown.

San Francisco flashed a new man-in-motion offense that left Brodie a lonesome quarterback behind the middle of the line. The maneuver fooled the defending pro champs the first half, but they put a tremendous check on Brodie during the third and fourth quarters to cut his effectiveness and hold the 49ers scoreless.

After Moore's 32-yard run for his second touchdown of the afternoon, Green Bay moved 83 yards in 12 plays for their go-ahead tally with Earl Star hitting four passes for 54.

Star passed seven yards to Ron Kramer for the final tally before 33,529 disappointed Kezar Stadium fans.

Jerry Kramer, who also had contributed a field goal, booted his fourth conversion.

Porks Remain Undefeated in Basketball

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks sped through their opening week in basketball unscathed.

The Hogs knocked off the University of Kansas 64-62 in overtime last Monday and put down two late Missouri bids to whip the Tigers 70-61 last Saturday night.

The regular grind hits this week—with games scheduled Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Two of them will be in the state.

The Porks go to Stillwater, Okla., to battle Oklahoma State University Tuesday night. Then they play Tulsa at Fayetteville on Thursday, and travel to Blytheville for a game Saturday night with Mississippi.

Arkansas notched its first two victories with different approaches.

The Missourians trailed 7-43 with 7:41 to play at Columbia, Mo., but fought back within two points. There was 3:17 to play with the score 63-61, Arkansas' favor.

The Razorbacks went into a stall, and the Tigers couldn't add another point to the board. Warren Vogel banged in a field goal and free throw for Arkansas. Skippy Coffman added a pair of charity shots and the Tigers could do nothing but scramble fruitlessly.

Arkansas outshot and outrebounded Missouri, and led the Tigers 32-23 at halftime.

Against the Jayhawks, forward Tommy Boyer fired in a 20-foot jump shot in the waning seconds to give the Razorbacks a second chance.

Boyer's jumper knotted the score at the end of the fourth quarter, and he and Coffman to give the Razorbacks a second chance.

Boyer's jumper knotted the score at the end of the fourth quarter, and he and Coffman piloted the Pigs into a quick lead in the overtime. Kansas played catch-up until time ran out.

new lonesome quarterback formation on the game's first series of downs as the 49ers struck 77 yards in 11 plays, with Smith scoring from the 2.

On the formation, one back lined up with Brodie behind the center of the line, then drifted slowly in motion leaving the quarterback alone in the backfield but with a host of potential receivers.

Jim Johnson, the man in motion on the drive's key play, caught a Brodie pass for 36 yards to the Packers' 15. A fourth down off-side penalty against Green Bay kept the drive in motion and Smith scored two plays later. Tommy Davis batted the first of his three conversions.

Later Brodie hit Monty Stickles on a 3-yard end zone pitch.

Aided by two penalties, the Packers marched back 73 and scored on Tom Moore's 5-yard run around left end. Jerry Kramer converted.

Abe Woodson returned the Packers' kick-off to the 49ers' 31 and on the next play Bernie Casey made a tremendous catch of a Brodie pass on the Packer 26—a 43-yard gainer. The quarterback connected on three passes, the finale a 5-yard scoring pitch to Conner.

Brodie hit 13 of 15 passes in the first half for 168 yards. He lost one receiver when Johnson twisted his left knee in the second scoring drive and was taken to a hospital.

Porkers Start Bowl Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks begin practice Monday for their battle with unbeaten Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1.

Coach Frank Broyles said the team will do little more than exercise the first couple of days, and then don pads for heavier preparations.

Broyles said he had been too busy with recruiting to give much thought to the Rebels.

"I did find time to look at a couple of films," Broyles said, "but I didn't study them much."

The Razorbacks had a 9-1 season and finished second in the Southwest Conference. They were ranked No. 6 in the last Associated Press collegiate ratings. Mississippi was ranked third.

Broyles said the team would be released Dec. 17 for the Christmas holidays, reassemble Dec. 26 at the University of Arkansas here and fly to Biloxi, Miss., for pre-game practice.

Griffin Wins But It Took a Low Blow

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev., (AP)—The private war of Emilio Griffith, the world welterweight champion and Jorge Fernandez of Argentina, has now endured nearly three years and 29 rounds of combat.

And it still isn't really settled. Officially, Griffith has whipped Fernandez three times. The latest was the ninth-round technical knockout Saturday night.

The first two, in 1960, were fairly controversial.

The latest was an epic in ring rhubarbs. Griffith won it on a punch to the lower groin. It was unintentional but a foul, according to referee Harry Krause.

Fernandez fell, clutching himself. The referee said it was a glancing punch. But just where it finally landed was open to wide speculation today.

Griffith said it would up in the stomach. Fernandez claimed otherwise.

The Fernandez corner people swarmed through the ropes. Their fallen warrior was prone and writhing on the canvas, apparently in excruciating pain.

It was a long time before order was restored and the scene was finally quiet today. But here are some answers for the curious:

Nevada boxing rules state that a fighter stricken on a low blow cannot win on the foul, and a fighter, if hit low unintentionally, must continue after having received a reasonable length of time to recuperate.

Paradoxically, a fighter can win a match on a foul, if accidentally delivered, which was how Griffith won this one.

The champion was ahead on two of the officials' scoring cards and even on another through eight rounds.

Blanda Kicks Houston to a Victory

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—George Blanda passed and kicked the Houston Oilers one step closer to another American Football League Eastern Division title Sunday with a 32-17 victory over Oakland.

The Oilers in winning, however, were unable to corral Raider back Clemon Daniels.

Daniels gobbled up 187 yards on 20 carries.

Blanda, who passed for one touchdown, kicked three field goals and added three extra points, won ample assistance from other Oilers including fullback Charlie Tolar and defensive specialists Bobby Jancik and Tony Banfield.

Every time Oakland got set for a pass, the stubby Tolar took the ball over, around or under the Oakland line.

Jancik's interception and run-back of a Colton Davidson pass in the first quarter set up the Oilers' first touchdown. And the running point came when Banfield grabbed an Oakland field goal attempt blocked by Ed Husman midway in the third quarter and scampered 58 yards for a touchdown.

It had been close until that point with just three points separating the teams with Houston ahead 10-17.

The Oilers scored the first time they got the ball with a Blanda field goal and went on to rack national conference.

Other officers, either elected or re-elected, are:

Herbert H. Lehman of New York City, former New York governor, honorary general chairman; Isadore Breslau of Washington, D.C., national chairman representing the United Israel Appeal; and Jack D. Weiler of New York City, national chairman representing the Joint Distribution Committee.

Haynes Sets a New Record

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—Abner Haynes set an American Football League record with his 19th touchdown and Curtis McClinton ran 60 yards for another Sunday to highlight Dallas' 17-10 victory over stubborn Denver.

Tommy Brooker kicked a 44-yard field goal to round out the Dallas scoring.

Gene Mingo of Denver kicked his 27th field goal of the season—bettering his own American Football League record—but he missed on three other tries.

Dallas picked off four Denver passes, three of them by rookie Bobby Ply, and it was Ply who stopped a Denver threat for a touchdown late in the game. However, McClinton fumbled and Jim McMillin picked up the ball on the Dallas 9 and ran to the touchdown anyway.

Patriots in Victory Over San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Quarterback Tom Yewcic threw two touchdown passes Sunday to lead the Boston Patriots to a 20-14 victory over the San Diego Chargers in an American Football League game.

Boston opened the scoring midway through the first period after defensive back Ron Hall recovered a San Diego fumble on the Chargers' 47. Three plays later Yewcic hit halfback Jim Crawford on a 43-yard touchdown pass.

The Patriots marched for two more scores in the second quarter. Gino Cappelletti booted an 18-yard field goal and Yewcic engineered a 69-yard scoring drive in nine plays, climaxing the effort with a 12-yard touchdown aerial.

Yewcic also set up a fourth-period field goal when he completed a 35-yard pass to end Tony Romeo, who was downed on the Charger 4-yard line. When the Patriots failed to penetrate into the end zone in three plays, Cappelletti kicked a 9-yard field goal.

San Diego scored in the fourth period when fullback Gerry McDougall dived in to score from two yards out.

Razorbacks Grooming for Bowl Contest

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas' Razorbacks began grooming today for their Sugar Bowl date with Mississippi in New Orleans on New Year's Day.

Coach Frank Broyles said the team probably would spend the first couple of days running, shedding pounds accumulated over the Thanksgiving Day holidays and since the Porks halted practice two weeks ago.

The Rebels were to start on Sugar Bowl preparations today, too. Coach Johnny Vaught said he had not completed training plans for the holidays.

Broyles said the Porks may get in some hitting the last part of this week, and then retire for the Christmas season. He said the team would re-assemble at Fayetteville on Dec. 26 to fly to Biloxi, Miss., the Porks' pre-game training site.

Arkansas finished second in the Southwest Conference football race this year with a 9-1 record—the most victories by an Arkansas team. The Razorbacks were ranked No. 6 in the final Associated Press collegiate poll.

Ole Miss, boasting its first perfect season (9-0), will also layoff for the Christmas holidays, re-assemble at the Mississippi campus and then practice until Dec. 31. The squad will fly to New Orleans that day.

The Rebels were rated third in the last AP poll.

Broyles said the Razorbacks had done a little running already, but serious practice began today.

2 THAT'S THE ENTRY I'M SENDING IN.

3 IT'S A PRETTY DULL ENTRY.

4 WELL, I CAN'T HELP IT... THAT'S THE WAY I FEEL ABOUT GERMS!
